In Summary:

- The major US indices are wrapping up their final 4th and 5th waves in the grand scheme of things.
- Preferred view has a “flat-type” Primary-IV wave underway, to around the recent December 24 low;
- followed by a final 1-2 year long Primary-V wave to complete Grand Super Cycle 3.
- Politics may then play a hand in the next multi-year decline.
- Tech and broader indices are not necessarily in the same Elliott wave count
- Short-term I expect a “Dead-cat” bounce followed by lower prices;
- but a move back over SPX2920 will have me question this thesis.
